~~both~~ conditions being that the management of the school aided is prepared to bear an equally substantial part of the whole expenditure that the institution serves useful purposes & meets a want, & that Govt funds can bear the grant in aid

8 I think all the cases in the list satisfy these conditions, except perhaps Cases 13 & 15

9 Re case 13, I do not know whether the Chamarajendra Sanskrit College admits non-Brahmins into the lower classes where the language is taught If the college is not open to all castes, certainly there is room for a cosmopolitan institution which is largely supported by private subscriptions

10 Re case 15, the grant proposed is too high & may be reduced to about 8 or 10 Rs The school committee ought to raise some subscriptions to meet the cost of the school unless the Edn Dept considers that a Govt school should be started in this Suburb of Bangalore to meet the educational needs of the locality
